The background of the advertisement is a scenic photograph of a river with rapids flowing over large, dark grey rocks. The water is a vibrant blue-green color with white foam from the rapids. In the background, there is a dense forest of tall evergreen trees under a bright, hazy sky. Two large rectangular tiles are superimposed on the right side of the image. The first tile is a light cream color with vertical, wavy, light brown veins. The second tile, positioned slightly behind and to the right of the first, is a dark grey color with vertical, wavy, light grey veins, mimicking the appearance of natural stone.
